Knowledge to help organizations of all types and sizes compete smarter.

GP Strategies takes great pride in the thought leadership and specialized knowledge within our organization. We serve industries as diverse as automotive and food & beverage, as relevant as government and energy and as sophisticated as technology and life sciences.

With more than 50 years of experience developing the sales, operations, maintenance, manufacturing and management skills of companies from Fortune 500s to SMBs, we have helped businesses in nearly every industry optimize their performance. Over the years, we've amassed an extraordinary cache of knowledge—both in our people and in our organization—to help you make a measurable impact on your clients, your industry and your bottom line.

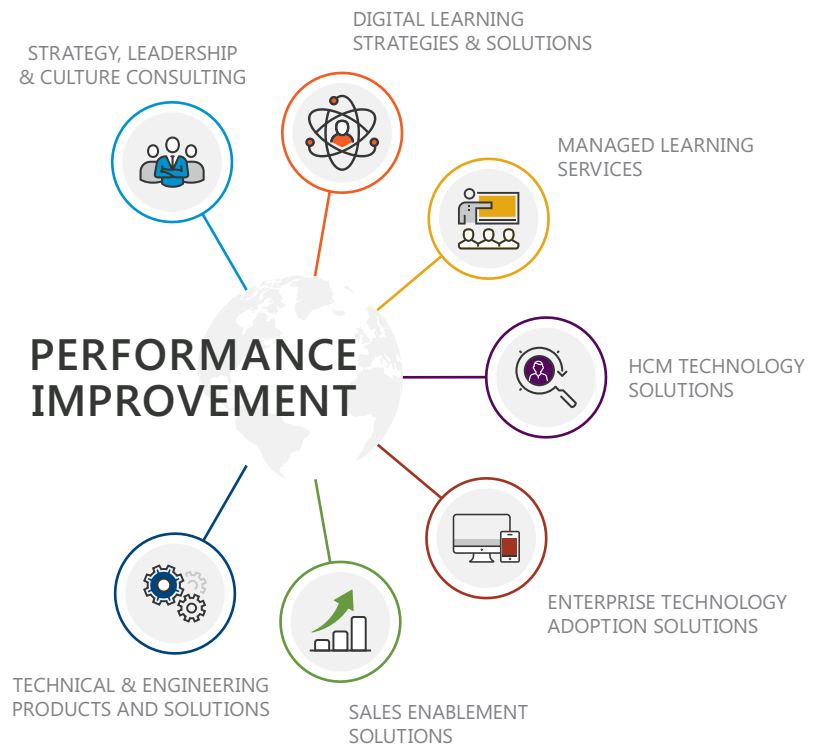

Performance strategies to help you achieve more from existing resources.

GP Strategies delivers the training talent, consulting knowledge and engineering skills you need to make every square foot of your organization perform at its peak. The key to achieving optimal performance lies at the intersection of knowledge and action. We help you put both to their best use by leveraging our expert training, consulting and performance improvement capabilities.

Impact and services that reach around the world.

With offices through-out the US, Canada, Latin America, Europe and Asia, GP Strategies is well positioned to deliver consistent results for your organization around the world. In fact, GP Strategies is one of the few single-source providers with the proven ability to start up, optimize and align your worldwide operations.

Whether you need to develop a single course to deploy in your local offices, are looking for native-speaking managed services in Singapore or want to implement a company-wide sales training program across the globe, count on GP Strategies for the world-class proficiency, service and skills to help you create an impact your customers and shareholders will appreciate.
